Campaign Notes

News from the Capital Campaign
Executive Committee

Wasn't that Fun?

The Capital Campaign celebrations continued this past week with two elegant events! Thanks to the generosity of William Hennessey and The Chrysler Museum staff, we caught the "hottest" show in town at a wine-and-cheese party at the museum's new glass studio. Then on Saturday, we enjoyed a lovely springtime tea party at the home of Anne Richardson. Thank you to our wonderful hosts for making these events so special—and such fun!

And there's more to come. This week, the Pledge Parties continue with a family-friendly good time that's sure to put the do-si in your do-si-do! A fried chicken and BBQ dinner is on the menu, plus dancing. Get ready to allemande right on Saturday night when you sign up for this don't-miss party:

Saturday, May 19

Family Hoe Down 6 ~ 9 p.m.

Memorial Hall, Church of the Good Shepherd
7400 Hampton Boulevard, Norfolk, 23505

Dust off your cowboy boots (we know you have some!) and get ready to throw down at the hoe down. That's right, it's a square dance!
Please RSVP no later than Thursday, May 17

Sign-up sheets are in White Hall, or you can RSVP via email to Dennis in the office, dsipes.staec@verizon.net, or 622-5530. Please let us know if you need transportation.
