WELCOME TO

Let Patience Have Its Perfect Work

It is no secret that patience is a virtue that sometimes does not come easy. I'm sure you have heard of the person who prayed to the Lord, "Lord, I am praying for patience, and I would like it now." While you have probably never prayed that prayer, I am sure there are times when impatience has been the descriptive virtue. Oft times when we act hastily, impulsively or in a reactionary way, it can lead to results that were not of our choosing. Great exploits and positive strides forward take time, and they require levels of patience on our part. Like fine cooking, or beautiful works of art, good things emerge if we wait and be patient. The waiting process can sometimes be trying, yet it's the process that molds us and shapes us. It's the process that perfects and tempers our lives in a meaningful way. In the middle of a trying situation where resolution is not coming quickly, it does not seem desirable at the time, yet if we will wait on the Lord, learn lessons well, we will look back and understand God was there all the time. As we come into worship today, I want to encourage you not to be hurried. Let patience have its work in you today. If you were a canvas, and God the master painter, He is working on a masterpiece in progress. The completion date is not at hand, but if we will be patient, He will finish what He started in His time. So, let us learn to be patient!

"Like fine cooking or beautiful works of art, good things emerge if we wait and be patient."

Visiting with us? We are excited to have you in service! Here's what you might expect to experience this morning:

1. Loving Community: When you're at First Assembly, you're family! You'll find smiling faces and warm greetings everywhere you turn here!
2. Passionate Worship: People may sing, clap, or raise their hands during songs.
3. Inspirational Instruction: Messages are designed to challenge, convict, and inspire us to live fully-devoted lives to our savior and Lord.
4. Supernatural Experiences: Sometimes a message is given in another language or maybe a scripture verse is shared. It might seem random, but it's not! This is perfectly normal. We believe God, through His Holy Spirit, communicates with us at times in this manner.
