Keeping the Standard

There are way too many Disciplines to list all of the Standards that need to be kept. One thing for sure disciplines require a standard. Some are Law Enforcement some are Fire - First Responders in genre and category - they mandate a standard. There are minimums that are required to provide acceptable behavior and activity. On July 9th I will be traveling to South Carolina to meet with Chaplains from around the world for our Annual International Conference of Police Chaplains. I am pleased that many of our COPC Chaplains meet and exceed the standard for accomplishing chaplaincy training. My task will be to ensure that the standards are maintained and I will be assisting in the teaching and training along with way too many meetings to go to. The focus will be to make our standards measurable and to ensure that they meet the basic needs to fulfill chaplaincy work with First Responders. Our First Responders spend a majority of their career training and raising the standard. It is the Mission of COPC that we will continue to Serve and Support the First Responders of Central Oregon with a Standard of Professionalism that is represented by all of the agencies and departments that we serve. Thank you for the Standard that you set before us First Responders of Central Oregon - You Are Awesome - p.j.

We need help with securing prizes and gifts - and we need lots of players - we would like to have 30 foursomes help us raise some funds for COPC. To reserve your spot today Visit www.copchaplain.com. Contact Andrea at 541.390.4970 for questions.

COPC Chaplains

The Chaplains of Central Oregon Police Chaplaincy provide the crucial services that support the region's First Responders and the community. On an on-call basis, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, COPC Chaplains are dispatched to calls including deaths (Code 99s), death notifications, drownings, fires, homicides, hospital transports, infant and child deaths, motor vehicle accidents, search and rescue, suicides, and more.

In addition, COPC Chaplains provide confidential personal counseling and mentoring, hospital and home visits to assist in healing and provide support, critical incident stress debriefing and defusing for First Responders and the community following traumatic events. They officiate at ceremonies including funerals, weddings, celebrations, dedications, and other events. They do ride alongs and visit the First Responders at the agencies throughout Central Oregon. They also are involved in administrative duties, attending meetings, making community contacts, and fundraising.

Monthly training is offered to the COPC Chaplains, First Responders, and others; training to help Chaplains, Emergency Services Personnel and their family members maintain healthy relationships.
