JULY 20: WAS HINGTON/JOHANNESBURG Depart Washington, Dulles International airport via your South African Airways flight to South Africa.

JULY 21: JOHANNESBURG/DURBAN Upon your arrival in Johannesburg, you will be met and transferred to your connecting flight to Durban. Upon your arrival in Durban you will be met and transferred to your hotel. Dinner and overnight in Durban.

JULY 22: DURBAN This morning, take a panoramic tour of this seaside resort town and South Africa's busiest port. More Indians live in Durban than in any other city outside of India. Mohandas K. Gandhi, non-violent fighter for Indian independence first came to Durban in 1893 as a young lawyer. Because of his race, he suffered personal indignities. Gandhi conceived his philosophy of non-violent defiance in South Africa where he led mass protests against discriminatory laws. He lived in Durban on and off for 21 years. Visit the bustling Indian Market to see some of the beautiful baskets and smell the aroma of exotic spices. Overnight in Durban. - breakfast and dinner.

IN THE AFTERNOON CONFERENCE REGISTRATION AND OFFICIAL OPENING AT 7:00 PM.

JULY 23 24: CONFERENCE

JULY 25: DURBAN/JOHANNESBURG Morning transfer to the airport in time to connect with your flight to Johannesburg. Upon your arrival in Johannesburg, you will be met and transferred to your hotel. In the afternoon, enjoy a panoramic tour of Johannesburg to see the Shell House which is the headquarters of the African National Congress. Most of the world's great cities were built alongside rivers, but Johannesburg had to make do with an underground stream...of Gold! That was enough to transform it in three years from meager grazing land to the biggest town in South Africa. A century later, it is a dynamic metropolis of a bit more than two million people. Like all South African cities, Johannesburg's historic population patterns had been dislocated by the racial separation laws. Thus, some 50,000 Asians were resettled in their own suburb, Lenasia, and the blacks were assigned to vast townships on the outskirts; Soweto, by far the biggest and best known, is home for perhaps two million people. Overnight in Johannesburg. - breakfast and dinner.

JULY 26: SOWETO This morning enjoy a worship service followed by a visit of Soweto, a familiar name around the world, which is actually an acronym for Southwest Township. It is home for more than 2 million "blacks and coloureds" to use the designation of apartheid. The laws of apartheid had prohibited blacks from living within the city proper save for a few live-in female houseworkers. During the daylight hours, downtown Johannesburg looked just like Newark or Detroit. At night, it was suddenly all White as if someone had waved a wand and made the Blacks disappear. Their exodus was to the sprawling township southwest of Johannesburg, hence its name - Soweto. The name Soweto has been burned into our consciousness by the children's uprising against the hated Bantu education that prepared the Blacks for service jobs only and the Afrikan language for its usefulness to their prospective masters and employers. From the children's revolt until the present, Soweto was the scene, oft times the center, of the resistance against apartheid and the racist regime. Time and again, Soweto has been the site of confrontation between the proponents for liberation and the armed might of the South African Defense Forces. Nelson Mandela's home is in Soweto as well as Desmond Tutu's. The ground in Soweto is soaked with the blood of martyrs, men, women and children alike. As you approach Soweto on the super-highways, one can see a blue-gray smoke that hangs like a pall over the entire area stretching for 17 miles. Soweto in its expanse and nearly 50 communities would make ten Harlems! There is Orlando East, Orlando West, Kliptown, Chiewelo, Eldorado Park, Niceville, Lineas, Racecourse, etc. Time is allowed to meet and talk with residents. Visit the Holy Cross Anglican Church of Orlando West which was Bishop Tutu's seat before he was elevated to Archbishop of South Africa. Return to Johannesburg for dinner and overnight.

JULY 27: JOHANNESBURG/BLANTYRE Upon arrival you will be met and transferred to your hotel. Balance of the day leisure for mission work. Dinner and overnight.

JULY 28: Mission work. Complete day at leisure for your personal activities.

JUL 29: BLANTYRE/JOHANNESBURG/WASHINGTON, DULLES Transfer in the afternoon to the airport in time to connect with your return flight to Washington

JULY 30: WASHINGTON, DULLES Arrival back in Washington, Dulles in the morning local time.
