

It's a Time to Sing!

Have you ever stopped to think how melody, harmony and song offer a powerful image of what it looks like for a married couple to love one another, function as a thriving unit, and become "one flesh?"

It's December, and Focus on the Family has a challenge for your date night centered around the connection between singing and the spirit of the season. You'll have to admit that it's pretty hard to "keep from singing" at Christmastime. That being the case, why not turn the Yuletide festivities into an opportunity to have some fun, both as a couple and as part of a larger group? For more specific ideas, get your date guide now. And be sure to have a very Merry Christmas!
