

8th Grade Summer Reading

Welcome to the 8th grade! This summer you are required to read the following novel:

Call of the Wild by Jack London

You are required to journal your thoughts, impressions, feelings and observations as you read. You should have at least twenty journal entries. You may include what you are enjoying about the novel, any questions you may have about the plot, what you think may happen, and/or comments on the author's style. You should use a notebook to record your thoughts and hand it in on the first day of school.
