“SCOUT SUNDAY”

7:30 a.m./11:00 a.m.

The Church Where the Spirit of Unity Abides, The Church Where the Vision Lives and Shines and The Church that Loves and Cares

Order of Celebration*Devotion and Call to WorshipOpening Hymn of Praise:"Lift Every Voice and Sing"Prayer of Invocation/ConfessionScripture... .. Psalm 133A Moment in Black HistoryAnnouncementsInvitation to Share Your OfferingsOffertory PrayerPrayer of IntercessionMusical SelectionThe Preached WordInvitation to DiscipleshipBlessings and Benediction*CALL TO WORSHIP

Praise the Lord! Praise the Lord in the sanctuary! Praise the Lord with heart and voice! Praise the Lord with minds and bodies! Let everything that has breath, Praise the Lord!

Prayer of Invocation/Confession

Gracious God, who loves and lives, we desire to meet You here this morning. We desire to dwell in Your presence. May Your church be a vessel of healing and wholeness, compassion and encouragement, strength and hope. May we together, as Your people, be one voice giving You glory and honor. Precious Lord, we need Your help. We appear to be strong but weakness is our constant companion. We need Your help and Your forgiveness. Because of fear, we have held on to our old ways. Merciful Creator, we have failed You with our gifts. Please help us to live and drink from Your fountain. Through Jesus Christ, our Lord and Savior, Amen.

*Pray
ceasing.*
1 Thessalonians 5:17

Lift Every Voice and Sing

James Weldon Johnson

Lift every voice and sing, till earth and Heaven ring,

Ring with the harmonies of liberty;

Let our rejoicing rise, high as the listening skies,

Let it resound loud as the rolling sea.

Sing a song full of the faith that the dark past has taught us,

Sing a song full of the hope that the present has brought us;

Facing the rising sun of our new day begun,

Let us march on till victory is won.

Stony the road we trod, bitter the chastening rod,

Felt in the days when hope unborn had died;

Yet with a steady beat, have not our weary feet,

Come to the place for which our fathers sighed?

We have come over a way that with tears has been watered,

We have come, treading our path through the blood of the slaughtered;

Out from the gloomy past, till now we stand at last

Where the white gleam of our bright star is cast.

God of our weary years, God of our silent tears,

Thou Who hast brought us thus far on the way;

Thou Who hast by Thy might, led us into the light,

Keep us forever in the path, we pray.

Lest our feet stray from the places, our God, where we met Thee.

Lest our hearts, drunk with the wine of the world, we forget Thee.

Shadowed beneath Thy hand, may we forever stand,

True to our God, true to our native land.

FROM THE DESK OF REV. CARNEL RICHARDSON

Beloved of God,

February has been designated nationally as African American History Month. This month, we celebrate the heroes and sheroes of African American heritage who have made indelible marks on American and world history. We celebrate drum majors for justice who fought, marched, and ultimately died for the sake of freedom, justice, and equal rights for all. We celebrate our fearless, social reformers like Sojourner Truth, Frederick Douglas, and Marcus Garvey. We rejoice about our dynamic civil rights icons like Martin Luther King Jr, Rosa Parks, and Medgar Evers.

Today, our struggle for equality continues. Our fight for freedom and access to inalienable rights has not diminished. We must make Martin proud by working for justice for all people. Martin, Rosa, Medgar, and even Fannie Lou Hamer have all lit a beautiful flame. We must pick up the torch and carry it forward and let freedom ring.

Still in the Struggle,

*Rev. Carnel H.L. Richardson
Lead Pastoral Minister
New Prospect Missionary Baptist Church*

Offertory Prayer

Heavenly Father, we affirm that this is Your world and we are tenants here. We acknowledge that life does not consist of just the abundance of possessions. Help us to focus on You, our families and our church. Please accept our tithes, mission gifts and sacrificial offerings as an expression of our love. Use them to bless our fellowship and extend the Kingdom of God. Thank You for Your grace and Your patience towards us. Thank You for the privilege of serving You through the church. We love and we adore You. This is our prayer in Jesus' name. Amen.

"Therefore, my beloved, be steadfast, immovable, always excelling in the work of the Lord, because you know that in the Lord your labor is not in vain."

1 Corinthians 15:58

Brief History of African American Hospital in Detroit

When white hospitals refused to hire black nurses; segregated its black patients in separate wings; refused to allow Black doctors to perform surgery and required Black doctors to consult with White doctors before admitting patients; black doctors started a tradition of opening their own hospitals. Detroit would be home to not only the most hospitals dedicated to black patients, but also showcase the most owned by African Americans. In Detroit, and other cities with large black populations, quite a few African-American physicians either started their own hospitals or joined with their black colleagues to purchase large Victorian homes that served as a hospital.

Dunbar Memorial Hospital was one of the first Black Hospitals to open in the city of Detroit. It was opened in 1918 by 30 members of the Allied Medical Society, an organization formed by African-American doctors angry with their white counterpart's treatment. The hospital would expand from 27 beds to 40 beds in 1924 and would open Detroit's first school of Nursing for black women. After World War II, small independent hospitals began to disappear. They could not offer the services, nor were they as well equipped as modern large hospitals. With the emergence of Medicare and Medicaid in the 1960's, the financing of health care changed fundamentally. With federal funding came new standards that few small hospitals could satisfy.

Southwest General Hospital was the last of the Black owned hospitals to close. Opened in 1974, when four smaller hospitals merged (Boulevard General, Burton Mercy, Delray General and Trumbull General), it would last only 16 years. Southwest General Hospital was a 246 bed facility and was built at a total cost of $21 million. The Hospital closed its doors in 1991.

Below is a list of other African American owned and operated hospitals that closed their doors:

- Southwest Detroit Hospital (2401 20th Street) 1974-1991
- Trumbull General (3966 Trumbull) closed in 1974
- Boulevard General (1852 West Grand Blvd) 1960-1974
- Burton Mercy (271 Eliot) 1949-1974
- Delray General (7125 W. Jefferson) closed in 1974
- Baily General Hospital (292 E. Ferry) 1970-1974
- Mount Lebanon Hospital (2610 S. 14th Street) 1950-1958
- Haynes Memorial Hospital (73 E. Palmer) 1950-1967
- Kirwood General Hospital (301 E. Kirby) 1943-1974
- Wayne Diagnostic Hospital (271 Eliot) 1939-1949
- Edyth K. Thomas Memorial Hospital (556 E. Garfield) 1937-1965
- Trinity Hospital (681 E. Vernor) 1934-1962
- Bethesda Hospital (544 East Garfield) 1931-1965
- Fairview Sanatorium (441 E. Ferry) 1931-1960

Moments in Black History....

- Lincoln University in Pennsylvania is the first institution of higher education founded for African-Americans. It paved the way for the 104 other historically Black colleges, which have produced distinguished alums like Thurgood Marshall, Spike Lee, and Oprah.
- Eatonville, Florida, the childhood home of writer and cultural anthropologist Zora Neale Hurston, is also the first town in the country to be incorporated by African-Americans.
- John Baxter Taylor, the first African American to win an Olympic gold medal, also held a degree in veterinary medicine from the University of Pennsylvania.
- In 1881, Sophia B. Packard and Harriet E. Giles founded what would become the first college for black women in the United States. The school was named Spelman College after Laura Spelman Rockefeller and her parents, who were abolitionists. Laura was also the wife of John D. Rockefeller, who made a significant donation to the school.
