Prayer of Invocation/Confession
Holy God, Gracious Father of Life, may our worship today reflect the true devotion of our hearts. This is the day that we are encouraged to pray, to praise, to confess, to hear Your Word and to surrender. We seek Your Presence like never before. Please shine Your light on every dark place. Show us the way to live. Give us ears to listen and eyes to witness. Today, we want to know the Father. We desire the Son and the Holy Spirit to fill us with joy and hope and peace. Thank You for surprising us every day as You work things together for Your glory. There is none like You. Thank You for touching our lives! Amen.

CALL TO WORSHIP
It is good to give thanks to the Lord, to sing praises to the Most High. It is good to proclaim your unfailing love in the morning, your faithfulness in the evening.
Offertory Prayer

Almighty God, in whose presence we worship and in whose name we pray, today we bring our tithes, mission gifts and sacrificial offerings to You. We want our light to shine in the world through these blessings we bring to You. We put our trust in You and we render our stewardship to You. We join our hearts, spirits, voices and money, together to worship You. Please increase our obedience and increase our faith. In the power of the Name of Jesus, we pray and we give. Amen.

“Therefore, my beloved, be steadfast, immovable, always excelling in the work of the Lord, because you know that in the Lord your labor is not in vain.”

1 Corinthians 15:58

Rev. Dr. Riggins Earl is a professor of Ethics and Theology at the Interdenominational Theological Center of the Atlanta University Center where he has served for thirty plus years. He holds the Ph. D. degree from Vanderbilt University in Social Ethics. He has done post-doctoral studies at Harvard and Boston University respectively. Earl has done research at the London Institute for African Studies; taught in the Religious Studies Department of the University of Tennessee at Knoxville; and taught religion in the university and seminary context for forty years. During that tenure he has sought to be at the forefront of intellectual conversations about religion and the ethical and moral life particularly as it relates to black Americans.

Besides his numerous articles in print, Earl has published two major volumes on the subject of black religion and ethics: Dark Symbols, Obscure Signs: God, Self, and Community in the Slave Mind (1993); Dark Salutations: Greetings, Ritual, and God in Black America (2001). Earl’s work has earned him several national research awards. In November 2007 and in 2009-2010, Earl was appointed by Tuskegee University as a Visiting Senior Scholar at The National Bioethics Center. He published several articles from this research and study. Just to name a few: “The USPHS Syphilis Study at Tuskegee: Rethinking the Horizons of Beneficence” in The Search for the Legacy of the USPHS Syphilis Study at Tuskegee, edited by Ralph V. Katz and Ruben Warren. Lanham, Maryland: Lexington Books 2011; “Sankofan Socio-ethical Reflections: The Tuskegee University National Bioethics Center’s Decade of Operation, 1999-2009” in Journal of Health Care for the Poor and Underserved volume 21, number 3 supplement Baltimore: Johns Hopkins Press August 2010; Earl is presently writing an article on “Breaking Interfaith Sound Barriers: Louis Armstrong’s Creative Jazz Response to Judaism, Catholicism and Protestantism” and “A Commoner’s Uncommon Life of Ministry: Pastor Johnny Flakes Jr. 1934-2013.” Earl is presently writing the following book manuscripts: “No Balm in Gilead? The Ethics of Complicity in the Tuskegee Syphilis Study” and “Between Jesus and Brer Rabbit: The Moral Dilemma in Black Religion.”

Professor Earl, an ordained Christian clergy (Baptist), advocates teaching and preaching the gospel to meet the needs of the whole person. He does this by building communication bridges between the black church and the academy. From July 2011 – August 2012 Earl served as interim pastor of the Beulah Baptist Church in Vine City Atlanta, Georgia. During that period, he launched a weekly Wednesday noonday Bible study service where better than two hundred homeless people were taught and fed at some week day sessions. Earl has formerly pastored for more than twenty plus years at churches in Shelbyville, Tennessee specifically, and the Knoxville, Tennessee suburban areas of Alcoa and Louisville respectively. Professor Earl is seriously committed to the teaching and preaching of the Christian gospel locally, nationally and internationally. For a ten year tenure, Earl taught during the summers in Vision Quest: An Ethical Leadership Academy for Youth in cities such as Atlanta, Detroit, and Rochester. He has done volunteer work at the Lindsey Street Baptist Church in Atlanta, conducting Bible classes for ex-felons.

Professor Earl is married to Natasha N. Coby Earl. Riggins was married to the late Lovelene Thornton Earl with whom he fathered two sons and one daughter. Earl is the grandfather of two grandsons, Nathan and Caden Earl.
