

Noel Meador

Noel Meador serves as Executive Director for Stronger Families in Bothell, Washington. As an emerging leader in the marriage movement, Noel brings a new perspective reaching “at risk” marriages and how the next generation will define strengthening marriage. He began working in this field when he took a ministerial position as an Associate Pastor after finishing his Masters Degree in Education. During this season Noel was trained in tools such as Prepare/Enrich, NANC, Genesis Process, and others that helped him to successfully counsel many singles and couples.

As the author and creator of the Oxygen For Your Relationships Seminar, Noel has had the opportunity to speak to a variety of communities and national conferences. His ability to blend personal stories with humor and depth of insight has allowed him to connect in an authentic way with 20's and 30's old. He has a passion to see relationships changed by offering tools and resources that promote authenticity and vitality both for individuals and couples.

Noel currently resides in Woodinville, Washington, with his wife Karissa and their two sons.
