Bible Story: The Lost Son. Luke 15:11-24

Back Track

Get a toy or game with multiple parts that can come apart. For younger children it could be a simple ten or twelve piece puzzle, for older children or the whole family use a set of interlocking blocks or a set of construction toys. Take a walk with your family through the house and drop pieces of the toy as you go. After dropping some pieces, talk about times that you have disobeyed God. Have each family member think back and tell about a time that they broke a rule or disobeyed. As you tell about each time keep walking and dropping pieces. When you have run out of pieces, have the family follow the trail of dropped pieces back to where you started. Work as a family to put the toy back together. As you work, remind them of the Bible Story about the son who returned to his father. Tell your family that when we come back to God, He forgives us but our lives might not be exactly the same. But with God's love and forgiveness, we can start to put our life back together, just like we put this toy back together. When we turn back to God, it doesn't matter how far we have gone, or how many sins we have dropped along the way; God will forgive them all when we come back to Him.
