This spring and summer have been seasons of transition for all of us here at East Lake. Times like these are both exciting and challenging and the Staff Parish Relations Team would like to ensure that everyone in our church family understands the staffing changes we are putting in place as our church migrates from having both Senior and Associate Pastors, to a ministry model where Pastor Jay Kowalski will serve as our sole clergy person. We believe that it will be important for Pastor Jay to have staff members who can assist him with the many ministries and administrative functions that a church the size of ours includes. Our goal has been to provide the necessary staff to continue and grow our current ministries while being mindful of maintaining a balanced budget. We are confident that this plan will achieve both of those goals. Our new staffing plan includes the following positions:

Karen Gambrell will assume the role of Administrator of Church Operations on a full time basis and will oversee the day to day operations of personnel, finance, administrative and custodial support. She will act as Pastor Jay's right hand for non-ministry functions.

Lucy McGee will assume the part-time role of Congregational Development Coordinator and will assume many of the duties that Pastor Dionne performed with regard to Pathfinders. She will also work to integrate new members into the life of the church and will be responsible for the tasks associated with maintaining membership rolls.

Danielle Muller joined us in June to fill the position of Communications Coordinator which is the position Laurel Fortuna left last March. Danielle's role will be more focused on communication and will not include all the duties related to new members that Laurel used to perform.

We have advertised for the position of Minister of Visitation to have a ministry-focused staff person who will work with our Caregiving Ministry to include our Stephens Ministers. This person will help Pastor Jay reach out to our homebound, sick and hospitalized church members to ensure that our visitation ministry is all that we need it to be.

We have also advertised for a part-time Receptionist who will greet visitors, answer phones, schedule rooms and appointments and do other clerical and administrative tasks. We are currently seeking an experienced preschool leader to become the new Director of our Young Days Preschool as well. The position of Administrative Assistant for Child and Youth Ministries has been eliminated.

We hope you will join us in welcoming new staff members as they arrive and that you will congratulate both Karen and Lucy on their appointments to new and important roles at ELUMC.

God Opportunities

by Becky Bride, Lay Leader

I was looking out my window and saw my large oak tree. I started thinking about that tree and how it had really no choice where it would grow. I am sure the builder made that choice for the tree. It has grown over the years into a large beautiful oak tree.

I began thinking that the tree would live out its life in that one spot. It would have to glorify God where it was planted. How does a tree glorify God? By doing what God created it to do.

It's large sturdy branches are home to a family of birds. It supplies food for the many squirrels that play in its branches. It offers a safe haven as the squirrels scamper up its trunk to escape my dogs. It gives the grass shade for part of the day giving the grass a respite from the scorching sun.

Science would tell us that it takes in carbon dioxide and releases oxygen into the atmosphere as it "breathes". That helps the atmosphere have plenty of oxygen for us to breathe.

Then I started thinking about the trees I have seen that are growing out of rock on the side of a mountain. How they can get any nutrients from that rock is a miracle.

These trees had no choice of where they would grow. Their environment is so much more difficult to survive in than the environment of my oak tree. Yet these trees survive. Their roots begin to break the hard rock as they grow and slowly soil begins to form.

What strikes me is the miracle of growth in a seemingly hopeless situation. That glorifies God. Then I began to think about people. Some people go through life without a lot of obstacles, like my oak tree. Others seem to go through life enduring one obstacle after another, like the trees growing out of the rocks on a barren mountain.

It doesn't really matter where we find ourselves because God is always with us.

Regardless of the situation we find ourselves in, we can glorify God. We must take our eyes off ourselves and lift them up to God.

Then we begin to see God opportunities in our circumstances.

Finally we need to surrender ourselves—"God you have placed me here. Use me as you see fit." Then God will be glorified.

This month let us begin living life with our eyes focused on the Lord and seeking the God opportunities everywhere we go.

Thank You East Lake

Dear East Lake Family ~

Thank you for the wonderful send-off for my family and me! The cards, gifts, and reception were filled with love and appreciation. A special thanks for the beautiful clergy stole. I wore it proudly as Craig and I officiated at our niece's wedding this past weekend and will always be reminded of my East Lake family when I wear it in worship. I have been blessed. You all remain in my prayers and in my heart!

Much love and grace ~
 Pastor Dionne

A very special thank you to Pat Peterson and the Caregiving Memorial/Hostess Team and to Bev Peck, and the Caregiving Cookie Team, for providing cookies and for hosting Pastor Bob and Pastor Dionne's receptions. You did a fantastic job!!!!

Margie Marks

Dear Caregiving Ministry,

Thank you so much for the lovely flowers you brought on Sunday, May 29th. They are so beautifully arranged, and the red, white & blue is perfect. I love flowers...they are God's gift...and they make me feel so good and happy. They are very much appreciated by my son, Marc and myself. Thank you for your thoughtfulness and kindness.

Sincerely,
 Rosemary C.

Dear Givers of Care:

You really live up to your name, so to provide an emphasis, I broke it into two parts, I didn't think you would mind. This weeks flowers were lovely. I was surprised that a bud vase could contain such a beautiful arrangement! My mother, who incidentally is celebrating her 102nd birthday this weekend, provided table decorations on special occasions for each table in her church's Fellowship Hall for over twenty years. She has a unique talent, when it comes to flowers. I appreciate all the attention you've given me, but my chemo is going so well that I believe you should now direct your special attention to others.

Blessings to all of you,
 Elinor Durham

Dear Caregiving Group:

I thought maybe you could use these cards to brighten someone's day like you have done many times for me. The many cards, phone calls, and flowers seem to come at just the right time. Thanks to all of you who have put me in your thoughts.

With Love,
 Sandy Steyer

Dear Members of Caregiving,

You are a wonderful part of our church!! Many thanks for the various ways you have shown your love and concern for me. I hope each of you feels blessed by the church work that you do so faithfully.

Love, Elinor Durham

Serve Others

Floods, Earthquakes, Tornadoes, and Turmoil

by Peggy Bernard

Many of my friends, as well as myself, have commented on the fact that we cannot help but cry when we read about the people who have been affected this year by the multitude of tragedies due to the events I've listed in the title of this column. We see pictures of people just worn out from their tears and their efforts at salvaging the pieces of a home that made up their life and that of their family. I hear and see victims on TV saying they just don't know how or if they will ever recover.

However, as our church representative to FUMCH I wonder if many of us ever think about the life before FUMCH for so many of the children who now live safely in beautiful, homelike surroundings. Do we ever think about the circumstances that led them to FUMCH? Perhaps they too had to part with all the things that were dear to them, and through no fault of their own they must adjust to a new life.

What a blessing to know that while we can't help all of the people in our country and other countries who have lost everything, we do have the opportunity to provide a safe and loving shelter for our charges at FUMCH.

This summer there will be Friday activities for the children, including woodworking and other crafts. I know there will be sports and healthy food as well. If you would like to join in the FUMCH Summer Quest and help make wonderful memories for some very special children you can send your tax-deductible gift to Florida United Methodist Children's Home at 51 Children's Way, Enterprise, Florida 32725-8186.

A donation of $50.00 will cover all Friday activities for one child, $25.00 will cover supply fees for woodworking and other crafts for one child and $100.00 will cover five classes per week for one child. If you have any questions please contact FUMCH at 1-386-668-4774 or go on line to www.allchildrenfirst.org.

Summer Time

Summer time is when the living is easy, which is the message of a familiar song. Summer time is also full of fun, and surprises for children as well.

In the latest issue of the Children's Home Herald I read about cottage groups and their bike rides around campus, children having a wonderful time at the annual Foster Care Picnic, an adorable Royal Preschool Tea Party for the little ones, and going out for a special treat of ice cream cones from McDonald's, and just thoroughly enjoying their summer.

At McDonald's a generous person inquired of the house parent as to what kind of group this was, and then insisted on paying for their ice cream treats. Isn't it wonderful when God moves our heart to give freely? Please think of FUMCH when you would like to give a special gift, perhaps in honor of a loved one or as a living memorial. FUMCH has been blessed with many generous donors giving everything from 30 packages of diapers, wipes and stuffed animals from a 5th Grade class at Stetson Baptist School to five new bicycles from the GE Energy Communications Organization, not to forget First UMC of Lakeland donated 250 books and several checks for the Education Center.

South Carolina Mission Trip Experience #1

by Katie Matuska, Youth Group

When we took off for the mission trip, I was pretty far away from ecstatic; don't get me wrong I was excited to rekindle relationships with my old friends and work for others; but I was still asking myself, "Why would God move me away from my friends in California?"

To give you some background, we were in Florida for almost a week when we left for the mission trip; I was going through a tough time because I wasn't sure why God wanted me to live in Florida. Throughout the week I went through the motions, I would worship God on the breezy boardwalk along Myrtle Beach, I woke up on time with a smile on my face; to show my peers and counselors that I wanted to be there.

However, I knew I wasn't there for all the right reasons. Then on Thursday, things started to change. I met a boy from the home that we were working for, we connected instantly, and he called me his "Katie Bug" and I called him "Big D".

He shared with me some of his past and where life has taken him. He showed me that no matter where you are, you are there for a reason and wherever life takes you; you're in the right place.

After meeting him I started to really talk to my peers, praying for them and hearing the struggles they have gone through, and it was at this moment, that I knew I was here for a reason, and that reason was to help my friends to show the light that they have shown me. We learned how to work together and how to help each other.

The project that we were working on, digging of foundations and trenches for a new building, was supposed to take three weeks, it took us three days. God showed us that we could do anything. On Thursday night, we had a chance to write down everything in life that was holding us back; things that were pulling us away from God, and dumped them into a pail of water. I watched mine dissolve away and picked up a small white cloth, to remind that my struggles were being washed away.

I have made friends for a lifetime on this trip, I know that people are consistently praying for me and that I can go to anyone for help or simply a smile. The mission trip changed my life; as it did for so many other kids in this youth group family. We learned how to be there for each other, and that God, mixed with good friends and hard work can make anything happen.

South Carolina Mission Trip Experience #2

By Jimmy Hickman, Youth Group

On our mission trip to South Carolina we worked at Waccamaw Youth Center Boys' Homes. These boys had lost their parents or been neglected by them. Our job was to dig a foundation for a new building for them. The lot we had to dig on was 50 feet by 50 feet. Our first task was to take off all the top soil. We had shovels, gloves, wheelbarrows and our determination. We finished digging up the topsoil on day two. So next we began our task of digging a trench for the concrete to be poured in around the perimeter. The trench was quite deep and involved digging up heaps and heaps of clay. But we got it done by day three. Finally we had to put up wooden boards along the trench to hold in the concrete. We finished this right at the end of day four. What we accomplished in our 3 and a half days working in SC was what Team Effort had planned to take three and a half weeks. God was definitely at work in Myrtle Beach.

Let's Learn about Haiti

by Lois Rogers-Watson

Not only is Haiti a special mission project of our local church, it has also been designated as a mission study for 2011-2012 by many Protestant denominations, including The United Methodist Women. Here at East Lake we are privileged to have a) members who have traveled to Haiti, b) individuals in nearby communities who are Haitian, and c) ELUMC United Methodist Women who will be studying about Haiti in July at the Florida Conference School of Christian Mission. At 7 p.m. on Thursday, September 15, *Pastor Tamara Isidore will bring all three resources together in a program in Fellowship Hall. Please put the date on your calendar and be prepared to learn about and to be touched by the country and people of Haiti.

SUMMER TRAVELS -- SAVE THE SOAP AND SHAMPOOS

Want an easy ministry to assist with? While you are traveling this summer, collect all of those hotel soaps, shampoos, conditioners, moisturizers and bring them home with you for the Tampa Bay Downs Race Track Chaplaincy. One of our church members, Leslie Devitz, collects these personal hygiene products and takes them to the TBD Chaplaincy where they are dispensed to the backside barn workers who can use them. Just bring them home from your trips, bring them to the church office or on Sunday in a plastic bag with Leslie Devitz's name on it and she will get the products to the Chaplaincy.

Missions & Outreach

by Nicole Holler

ELUMC is so pleased to help fund an event for Zamar Ministries in Haiti this month to celebrate the good work that is taking place in such difficult conditions. During this gathering, the people from the seven remote locations will come together for worship, food, and to care for each other. Many of the people connected to the ministry do not eat regularly and this is an opportunity to provide food and fellowship for them. Our prayers and support are with our friends over in Haiti as they recover from a period of severe hardship.

A big THANK YOU to everyone who donated ingredients and/or helped make lunches for the clients at Pinellas Hope. With your help we made 122 sandwiches and delivered them along with brownies, fruit cups and chips. The meat and cheese we had left over was delivered with the lunches for use by Pinellas Hope in preparing meals throughout the week. What a wonderful show of love and support for our neighbors!

Joining Hands Community Mission needs help to provide back to school necessities for children in need.
