A SENSE OF URGENCY

The New Year is often depicted as a tiny baby. There is much comfort in this concept. A new beginning, new opportunities, and time. But there is also a danger that's as old as mankind and that is believing that somehow we have all the time in the world.

This problem existed in Christ's day. He had to warn: "Don't you have a saying, 'It's still four months until harvest'? I tell you, open your eyes and look at the fields! They are ripe for harvest." Jesus also reminded the disciples that people with a 'the Lord delays His coming' attitude would ultimately fail in the stewardship of life.

The year is new. Three hundred sixty-five days lie ahead, eight thousand seven hundred and sixty hours are ours to use as we please. But what we need is a sense of urgency. We must work to be faithful stewards of the time given us. Stewardship is taking care of everything God gives us and if we consider that everything given us, including the precious gift of time, comes from God Himself, then things start to take on a whole new perspective.

The very foundation of Paul's ministry was driven by a sense of urgency. He knew there was no time to lose. In 2 Corinthians 6:2, Paul says "NOW is the accepted time."

There are those who proclaim that the world as we know it will come to an end in December of this year. No one truly knows. When will the Lord return? We have a lot of help in scripture that points us to the times and His return, but no man knows the hour or the day, except God Himself. It could be this year. A sense of urgency will cause people to attempt the seemingly impossible. It was a sense of urgency that made Abraham attack an alliance of kings with only 318 servants and Abraham dealt the enemies a devastating blow. It was a sense of urgency that made Esther a heroine in saving her people. She declared, "If I perish, I perish!"

A sense of urgency is demanding. It requires dedication, sacrifice, and effort. But the sense of urgency is also rewarding. The history of the church is not only the story of men who served, bled, and died, it is the story of men who found their lives.

"For whoever wants to save their life, will lose it. But whoever loses their life for me, will find it!" Matthew 16:25.

Our time is NOW! I am filled with anticipation at the possibilities of at least 10 new church plants this year in our state, and the eventual completion of our goal of 100 new churches in 10 years. We were able to plant eleven churches in 2011 for which we give thanks to God.

I am grateful for the opportunity to serve the state Arizona. I pray for your encouragement and strength in the Lord as we work together in the harvest. Paul says in Colossian 4:5 "make the most of every opportunity." Let's make the most of any and every opportunity TOGETHER!

"Baby dedications were always a highlight for us while pastoring a church and I was given this honor once again on Sunday, November 6th, when we gathered with the Ridgeline Church and Pastor Steve and Cheri Long and dedicated their new daughter, Hannah Christine. Sisters Katelyn, Chelsa, and Ashley were on hand as well, and Hannah was an angel the whole time! What a cutie. Marjorie and I were delighted to be a part of this special day for the Long family."

LEO GODZICH IS IN HEAVEN –

Our sympathy is extended to the immediate family of Dr. Leo Godzich, along with the Phoenix First Assembly church family, in their loss of a staff member and dear friend who spoke healing into the lives of so many.

Dr. Leo Marc Godzich was involved in a fatal automobile accident while on a mission trip in Uganda, Africa, on October 27, 2011. He was born April 30, 1959, in Soissons, France, and is survived by his wife of 29 years, Molly, and his daughters, Emily, Bethany, and Christy. Pastor Leo Godzich served as an associate pastor at Phoenix First Assembly of God for over two decades under Pastor Tommy Barnett. He received his Doctorate from Phoenix Theological Seminary. He, along with Molly, founded the National Association of Marriage Enhancement (N.A.M.E.), a ministry to promote marriage and train and certify lay marriage counselors. There are over 200 NAME centers across the globe on six continents. He was also the founder of the International Marriage Conference, an annual event that has drawn tens of thousands over the past 16 years.

He is the author of numerous books and training materials, including Is God in Your Marriage?, Men are from Dirt and Women are from Men, and Faith of our Founding Fathers.

In civic affairs, he helped author and pass Covenant Marriage legislation in Arizona and Louisiana and was a founder of the Covenant Marriage Movement as well as serving as a member of the Arlington Group. He will perhaps be best remembered for the impact he had on individual marriages through personal counseling, the hundreds of marriage conferences he held, and his speaking engagements at conferences around the world.

Molly and Leo worked together and played together. They enjoyed traveling together, playing games with their children, and their special “date” nights.

Emily, 20, has been studying theology at Southeastern University (AG) in Lakeland, Florida. She and Matthew Nilsen plan to marry next year. Emily works part-time for her parents at the NAME marriage headquarters.

Bethany is 17, and Christy will be 15 in December. Both girls attend Paradise Valley Christian College Preparatory in Phoenix. Leo was very involved in the girls’ schooling and education and was well-known by the other parents on campus because of his involvement in their productions and sport activities. He often gave the benediction at special events. The girls are extremely involved with their church, Phoenix First Assembly, participating in district Fine Arts competitions, Phoenix First Assembly’s Christmas productions, and their discipleship group called Ignite.

Our prayers are continuing for those left to live their lives without the godly guidance and influence of Dr. Godzich. He will be greatly missed.

It is wonderful partnering together with you in building His church. Jesus said in Matthew 16:18, “... I will build my church; and the gates of hell will not prevail against it.” He had a great idea in using the church to reach the world with the good news.

Assistant Superintendent

THE POWER OF ENCOURAGEMENT

In his classic book, "One Minute Manager" Kenneth Blanchard recommends developing the practice of "One Minute Praises" where the manager (pastor, parent, spouse, etc.) tries to "catch someone doing something right" and then spend a full 60 seconds praising that person for the good deed. This is a lot more difficult than it appears. Where we might not find it difficult to criticize someone for even 60 minutes, many times we find it almost impossible to praise someone sincerely for a full minute.

That's too bad, because a basic element of living the Christian life that we see defined so clearly in the New Testament is the practice of encouraging others. Paul said, "he who prophecies speaks to men for their strengthening, encouragement and comfort." (1 Corinthians 14:3)

This is what preachers should do; our sermons should strengthen, encourage and comfort the listeners. This is also what church members should do; our conversations with each other should be a source of strength, encouragement and comfort.

John Maxwell writes in his book "Developing the Leaders Around You" that UCLA basketball coach John Wooden told players who scored to give a smile, wink, or nod to the player who gave them a good pass. "What if he's not looking?" asked a team member. Wooden replied, "I guarantee he'll look." Everyone values encouragement and looks for it.

It's good to be specific in your praise. Take time to look up the times the Apostle Paul specifically praised people for what they had done, even naming names. It seems he is always specific in his praise for each church; "...I thank God through Jesus Christ for all of you, because your faith is proclaimed throughout the world." (Romans 1:8)

Paul ends the book of Colossians with some personal notes. Look at what he says about some of his fellow ministers: "...Tychicus will tell you all the news about me; he is a beloved brother, a faithful minister, and a fellow servant...he is coming with Onesimus, the faithful and beloved brother...Epaphras is always wrestling in his prayers on your behalf..." (Colossians 4:7-17)

When the Apostle Paul talks about the end time, where I believe we are now living, he says "Therefore encourage each other with these words." (1Thessalonians 4:18) What words are we to use? That Jesus is returning in the clouds of glory to take his people to their heavenly home. The world constantly tries to discourage us, so it is vitally important that we believers in Christ be encouragers.

In all your "resolution making" for the New Year, why not make a resolution to be an "Encourager". Encourage your fellow pastors and the people you minister to each week. Encourage the waitress at the café you frequent and encourage your neighbors and friends.

Take time to write an email to the missionaries you support and just let them know you appreciate the work they are doing to advance the Kingdom and let them know you are praying for them.

It was important for the Apostle Paul to be an encourager, let's follow his example.

American Indian College

At American Indian College, we continually speak of our values of Academic Excellence, Spiritual Empowerment, and Ministry Experience. In alignment with our pursuit of Academic Excellence, AIC is proud to announce that Dr. Aretha Matt will be joining the faculty, beginning January 2, as the incoming Chair of Humanities and Interdisciplinary Studies.

Dr. Matt is a member of the Navajo Nation from Querino Canyon, Arizona. She identifies as the Charcoal Streaked Division of Red Running into the Water clan and is born for the Towering House clan. She holds a B.S. in Political Science, a M.Ed. in Educational Leadership, and an M.A. in English from Northern Arizona University (NAU). She earned a Ph.D. in English with an emphasis in Composition, Rhetoric, and Teaching English from the University of Arizona where she has also been serving as a lecturer in the English Department. Previously she has also served as an English instructor at White Earth Tribal and Community College in Mahanomen, Minnesota. Dr. Matt has had several poems published and made close to a dozen scholarly presentations at various academic conferences. While a Ph.D. student she won numerous scholarships and fellowships.

Dr. Matt will be teaching courses in English Composition, Native American Literature, and interdisciplinary courses related to Native American Studies at AIC. When visiting the campus recently Dr. Matt made a very powerful impression on the AIC community, displaying a great passion for teaching and mentoring students, as well as encouraging them in their Christian faith. She currently attends Victory Worship Center in Tucson under the leadership of Pastor Zane Anderson, where she is involved in music ministry with the choir.

Thank you, Arizona District, for your prayers and financial support. Your students benefit by a quality Christian higher education. Please know that we seek to be a valuable partner with our churches.

Granite Hills Camp

It is a new year and it's hard to believe 2011 is over. 2011 was a fantastic year. We had an awesome time at camp with a larger number of youth and kids than the year before. We also had a great turnout of adults for retreats this year. For the coming year of 2012, we anticipate an even better year with more youth and kid's at camp and more retreats.

I would like to thank all of the churches that have been supporting Granite Hills Retreat & Conference Center this past year. Because of your support we are a much better place. We also want to thank all of the RV M.A.P.S. workers that worked last year; without your help we would not have completed the Worship Center with the new lighting and sound systems and the Christmas lights.

2012 begins mine and Marcene's fifth year here at Granite Hills. We are very excited to continue working here to help make your events as pleasant as can be. We would love to host your Men's, Women's, Kid's or Youth's winter, spring, summer or fall retreats. We have special discount rates for all the churches that are supporting Granite Hills.

GOD BLESS & HAPPY NEW YEAR

Only A Miracle Could Change Scott's Destructive Future

Scott Moseley came to Teen Challenge in desperate condition. Only a miracle would change his destiny. But, Teen Challenge is all about miracles made possible by the Miracle Maker Jesus Christ.

Before

By the age of 13, Scott was enslaved in addiction to alcohol and meth. He turned to drugs to "fill an emptiness inside" that he could not explain. He was angry with God and himself as he headed down the path of destruction. A war was raging inside him that he had no control over, a battle he was losing.

When he was 26, just a few days before Thanksgiving 2004, Scott hit bottom cutting his wrist in a drunken rage. Desperate for help, he stumbled into the Greater Phoenix Teen Challenge Center.

Nearly a year later, on October 18, 2005, the miracle happened. Jesus changed Scott from the inside out. His life has been radically transformed by the power of God. God has filled the emptiness with His love.

Scott now serves as the Greater Phoenix Center Supervisor helping other young men hurting... empty... addicted. He works with desperate men, helping them find the miracle of salvation and freedom from their addictions and hopelessness.

Pregnant With Promise 2012- Don't Put Your Dreams On The Shelf Will You Give Birth Or Abort?

Another year you say? Praise God we are alive for such a time as this. There is no better time to make a difference for the Kingdom of God as today! This is a very important time to be available to minister to every kindred tribe and tongue. What are we waiting for? The scripture Psalm 133:1 is written all over this word from the Lord. In order for brothers to dwell together in unity- the promise must turn into action. On just an average December day, Adonai gave me this message for 2012.

At the beginning of the Gregorian calendar year after year, we all look for the prophetic word for the New Year. We search the internet and e-mails to listen to what mighty men and women of God have to say from the Lord. We are anxious for new beginnings and to start afresh. Are you with me? Have you already been waiting for the Word? Well, here is what I received from the Lord! He said, "2012 is the year NOT TO put your dreams and visions on the shelf!" He said that "we are pregnant with promise." The question is, are we going to deliver this year or will we abruptly abort? It's about our attitude, obedience and trust when we are pregnant with promise.

Let's look at Manoach and his wife, Judges 13:3-24, and how they received the man of God and His word. They were excited, trustful and anxious to get instructions so they could obey. They were pregnant with promise and knew their dream would come true. They were obedient and fearful of the word from the man of God. They knew that this was very important not only for them but for the Kingdom of God. They had the right attitude and had no doubt. This would be a promise carried through full term! This is an example of action for us in the Body of Messiah. Let's receive the Word of the Lord and be pregnant for the Lord for 2012.
