

This August seems different. It's strange to not hear school buses transporting students on Belair Drive. Instead, road crews are repaving the road. Parents I have talked to have mixed feelings about Governor Hogan's statewide ban on school starting before Labor Day. Some have called the ban the Ocean City Offering. We now share this practice with our Virginia neighbors who also don't commence school till the day after Labor Day. There it is referred to as the Kings Dominion kickback. Anyway, I hope you are taking advantage of the later start to stretch out summer travel. I hope you had a chance to recharge your spiritual battery this summer. I know I have.

At CCPC, there are other changes afoot this fall. On the first Sunday after Labor Day, September 10, we will begin our new fall schedule. We call it the 9-10-11 schedule. Contemporary Worship at 9am. Our Blended Worship at 11. Adult Education and Sunday school are sandwiched in between at 10am.

At 9am, we will have our new contemporary service. We had two practices so far with our consultant, Scott Steers, from Guest Worship. Scott is helping us establish a structure to select music to fit our preaching themes and to get it to musicians (online of course) in advance. We are delighted to have Sam Guillermo as our lead musician. The worship team is in its initial stages but we are confident it will get stronger as the year goes on. If you know someone who plays an instrument, invite him or her to practice on Thursday nights at 7pm.

We will have a preview of the contemporary music that will be used in the 9am service at the August 27 worship service at 10:30am.

Few people show up to church because of flashy advertising campaigns. They do, however, come when they receive a personal invitation from someone they know and trust. The Outreach Committee will be passing out materials on August 27 to help you do your part. Everyone can help. We are suggesting every person pass out two postcards with the times and schedule of events to people you want to invite to join us at CCPC. We will also pass out one poster that looks just like the postcard and ask you to post it in a public space where you live or work. If each person does their part, CCPC can extend its community reach.

September 10 will also feature a new Adult Education series titled "Cultivating Healthy Relationships." The three-week series will be held in Dodds Hall. Plan to join us as we begin an exciting year of worship, mission, and spiritual growth. Also, congratulations to Dick Neff who is celebrating his 60th anniversary of his ordination on August 20. Dick and Trudy have been serving at CCPC since their arrival in 1969. A reception in Dodds Hall will follow Dick's sermon.

Grace and peace,
James Brassard

Worship Notes

August 20th at 10:30am

Pastor Emeritus Dick Neff will continue our series on “One Text: Many Interpretations.” Dick is preaching on Matthew 18:21-35. His title is “Forgive, As We Forgive.” A reception will be held in Dodds Hall to honor Dick’s service.

August 27th at 10:30am

Justin Devine adds his contribution on the series with his take on Romans 10. The service will open with a few songs led by our new worship team and its leader Sam Guillermo.

September 3rd at 10:30am

Reverend James Brassard returns to the pulpit with the final sermon in the series. The text is from Matthew 14, where Peter attempts to walk on water and fails. Whom do you identify with in the story? Are you a monkey or a cat Christian?

Ellis was supposed to be his great-grandma's,

Helen Bujac, birthday!

Congratulations to the Hesenperger and Collins families!

Thank You!

What a difference a year makes! At this time last year, James Brassard had just visited me in Medstar Washington Hospital Center and Sue Evans and Justin Devine had spent time with Brian during my surgery. So many others of you cooked delicious, healing, healthful food for us, sent cards, called to check on me, kept me company, and prayed for us. Each person who reached out aided in my recovery and each connection helped me remember what is so important in life. The prayers from you, my church family, were palpable. When I could have felt very alone, I felt your presence. I know, without a doubt, that your prayers for me were heard!

I hope each of you accept my sincere thanks for all of your support over the past year.

Adult Education

Hello CCPC Family,

For the next three years, I will be leading Adult Education at CCPC. My goal is to help all of us grow spiritually in the company of one another and learn how Jesus would have us live our lives today.

The first Adult Education class for the 2017-2018 year is a three-week series called "Cultivating Healthy Relationships." Justin Devine, Kristen McDermott (a family therapist), and I will lead discussion in Dodd's Hall on September 10, 17, and 24. Here is a brief description of the discussion topic for each week:

- ◆ Week #1 September 10 - Self-Discovery-In what manner do I give and receive love (Love Languages)?
- ◆ Week #2 September 17 - Applying Relational Knowledge-Self, Marriage, Family, Community, Workplace, and Church
- ◆ Week #3 September 24 - Improving Family Relationships (Kristen McDermott will lend her specific expertise to this discussion.)

Beginning on October 1, 2017, Adult Education will offer two options. Please consider attending one of the following classes:

- ◆ The first option is a five-week series called "Reformation: The Five Solas" and will be held in the Conference Room. This series will focus on the Reformers' convictions about the essentials of Christianity. Each class will include a discussion of one of the five Solas - its meaning in the time of the Reformation and its modern repercussions. Thank you to the following people who have agreed to lead discussions during the series: Steve Webb, Kevin Rice, and Mary Brock!
- ◆ The second option is called "Living Christian in a Secular World" and will be held in the Belair Room.
Living Christian is a structured bible study designed for people with relatively limited experience and knowledge of the Bible. Emphasis will be placed on applying scripture to the challenges of daily living in a secular world (hence the title!). This class will be led alternately by Pastor James and Justin and will continue throughout the 2017-2018 year.

I hope that you will consider attending and participating in one of these Adult Education offerings! CCPC has so many members with a rich and deep range of knowledge and expertise in a wide variety of areas and disciplines. Do you have knowledge, ideas, or passion that you would like to share with others? Consider leading an Adult Education class! My email address is jlwoods@aacps.org.

Knits with Sticks

CALLING ALL KNITTERS AND CROCHETERS

As fall comes, CCPC Knits with Sticks is seeking new members and we invite anyone who can come on Monday, September 18th, at 1:00 PM in the church Parlor. Our standard meeting date is the third Monday of the month at 1:00 p.m.

If you would like to participate, but cannot attend our daytime meetings, there are suggested patterns on the community table in the Atrium. Please feel free to browse and take what you want. In other words, we are a free-floating group where you can come to share your talents, to learn, and to ask questions along the way.

Our main function is to help locally; so traditionally, our efforts have been to make scarves or hats for parents or caregivers of our Christmas Families.

Place donations in the knitting closet; the last closet on the right leading to the parlor. On the top shelf, we have a clear zipped bag for donations. You can drop yours in the bag or just leave it on the top shelf of the closet. And, please do leave your name with your contribution so we know to whom we are grateful for your work.

We also have lots of yarn in the closet for you to pick up and use, and there are some knitting needles in a container in the Parlor, on top of the bookcase next to the window opposite the entry door.

You can be a knitter or crocheter of any stage in your ability. We all work at our own speed and to our own taste, but still, as a group, can make a nice contribution to the parents of the Christmas Families project or even a 10-inch square or two along the way to be put with a donation for the "67 Blankets for Mandela" project, which will be donated next May at the Maryland Sheep and Wool Festival. We do NOT have to have a completed afghan/blanket. Any loose squares are welcome or we can put together what we have as a start.

Looking forward to seeing you all in September.
