THIS WEEK'S SERMON

Traditional Worship: The Chancel Choir sings a Christmas Cantata, "Hope is Born: Emmanuel."

Contemporary Worship

Sermon: "The Art Rejoicing!"

Scripture: Philippians 4:4-7

Synopsis: Christmas is supposed to be a joyous time of year. And in so many ways that's what we try to do. We host parties and attend parties to be happy. We buy and receive gifts to be happy. We bake and eat to be happy. We do a hundred and one family rituals to celebrate the joy of the season. While each of these activities offers great possibilities for joy, what does the Bible say about the quality of Christian joy? What is the quality of Christian joy? What is its basis?
