TOP TEN WORSHIP TEAM TIPS

- If you have to inhale to wear skinny jeans...don't.
- No flip-flops. The platform lights have a tendency to magnify ugly feet and some people still refer to flip-flops as thongs.
- Cleavage (guys or girls) may be acceptable on the red carpet at the Emmy's but not on the powder blue carpet in the worship center.
- White slacks maximize the appearance of your lower extremities...do you really want to look like a bridge pylon on the platform?
- Drummer...the crash cymbal is like a fine wine meant to be enjoyed on special occasions and intended to be sipped not chugged.
- Lead Guitarist...did you know the congregation can actually see you? Less is more when it comes to low-slung guitar gyrations.
- Singers...consider your facial expressions (contortions). Is that conviction we are seeing or the consequences of your breakfast burrito?
- Singers...please respect the other team members. Not everyone enjoys your morning breath as much as your dog does (see breakfast burrito above).
- Tech Team...Using Comic Sans font doesn't make the late slide transitions any more humorous.
- Worship Leader...when considering verbal transitions; know the flight plan and how to land the plane before you leave the runway.
