

SHANEQUAH BRISON - BIO

Oklahoma City, Oklahoma is where Shanequah Brison's story begins. In 2002, she graduated from Northeast Academy for Health Sciences and Engineering. Deciding to stay close to home, she decided to become a Lion and attend Langston University, also known as "the school that sits on the hill." In 2006, she graduated Summa Cum Laude with a degree in Computer Science and a minor in Mathematics. Determined to continue her education, Shanequah obtained her Master's degree in Information Systems Management from the Keller Graduate School of Management.

She is an avid and active member of the Greater Mount Olive Baptist Church where she serves as a Trustee, Christian Education Co-Director, Small Women's Group Facilitator, and is the Women's Ministry Director.

She values learning and passing along information to others in all aspects of her life.

She is a member of the Oklahoma Sooner City Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Incorporated and a proud member of the Society of Women Engineers.

Shanequah's relationship with Christ is near and dear to her. This relationship allows for her to draw her strength to continue to forge through life's daily battles. Some of her favorite scriptures are Psalms 34, Philippians 4:13, and Colossians 3:23. These scriptures are manifested through Shanequah's actions in every dimension of her life.

Shanequah currently works for the Boeing Company. She has been a part of the Boeing family for 9 years and is currently a B-1 Defensive Systems Engineer. Aside from the many ventures in her life, in her free time, she enjoys watching T.V., listening to music, shopping, and traveling. Besides making joyous memories, the smallest and simplistic things always make her extremely happy.
