Meal Packing Event
Saturday, September 7th
10:00 A.M. - 12 Noon

It seems that, everywhere we turn, food is there! We have an abundance of grocery stores and restaurants in every town, our kitchens are well stocked with pantries, refrigerators and freezers full of food. About half of the commercials on television are about food.

So it's hard for us to imagine a world without a plentiful amount of food. But that is the reality that billions of people on the planet face daily.

West Waynesboro is excited to partner with Lifeline Christian Mission and Parkview Christian Church for a meal packing event. On Saturday, September 7th at 10:00 A.M. - 12 Noon in our Fellowship Hall, we will be packing about 5,000 meals to be shipped to our mission partner Haiti Outreach Ministries (HOM). This is a great whole-family service opportunity for kids & adults alike.

Please, sign up at the Information Counter/Mickey Center.

Reaching The Next Generation

As time rolls on and our culture continues to change at a rapid pace, we must continually evaluate how we will grow the Church of Jesus Christ and reach the next generation, because as someone once famously stated, "What got us here won't get us there." The June 2019 issue of the "Christian Standard" magazine featured an article by Kent Fillinger entitled, "Is Your Church Ready For Generation Z?" In it he pointed to the fact that the often discussed and sometimes criticized Millennial generation is getting older, with the oldest members of this generation turning 38 this year! With this sort of coming of age, many researchers and demographers are now beginning to focus on generation Z. There is some disagreement as to where the Millennial generation ends and generation Z begins, but most say that generation Z begins somewhere between the years 1996 and 2002.

Fillinger also stated, that for the first time, the Christian Standard annual church survey asked church leaders to share what their churches were doing to reach and engage the next generation. Below is an excerpt from that article and Fillinger's response to that question: "I appreciated this response from one small church leader: Our church has struggled for many years to attract young adults, therefore engaging them is difficult. We remain a predominantly older church, however we do have more young adults now than a few years ago. A primary reason our church struggles to attract young adults is because of a desire to hold on to past ways of doing church and the personal preferences of an older, vocal minority. It was just one comment among several, but my hunch is many of the churches in our movement are fixated on preserving man-made traditions at the expense of reaching the next generation for Christ."

If our church or any church is to survive and thrive, as the older generations pass, it is absolutely critical that we do what it takes to reach and engage the younger generations, so that we are able to pass the baton of faith and leadership. This means being willing to let go of man-made traditions and personal preferences and being willing to be uncomfortable for the sake of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. As the fathers of the Restoration Movement taught, "Where the Bible speaks we speak, where the Bible is silent, we are silent," and "In essentials unity, in matters of opinion, liberty." Let us not be found guilty of trying to make the Bible say what it clearly does not or of making opinions into salvation essentials.

Not surprisingly, the results of the annual church survey revealed that an emphasis on reaching and engaging the next generation seems to have impact on other areas of church life, such as: Average growth rate, Baptism ratio and Average worship attendance. In other words, when we are willing to think less of ourselves and more of those we're trying to reach with the amazing and life-changing grace of God, really good things happen. People are saved and churches grow. If we want really good things to happen in our church, we must realize that "What got us here won't get us there." To live is to change.

Serving Faithfully,

Chad

Oct 27 Trunk or Treat 5:30pm-7:00pm	Nov 10 STUDENTS NERF War 5:30pm-8:00pm	Nov 23 Parents Night Out KIDS - 1st-5th Grade 5:30pm-8:00pm

Just like those mountain leaves, changes are coming to the WWCC Youth Ministry Schedule! Starting in September, the Students, grades 6th-12th, will meet every Sunday night from 5:30 pm-6:30 pm known as Raised to Life, or RTL! With the students having their own devoted meeting time and place on Sunday nights, they should have the opportunity to connect and build a community with their peers and have an exciting time to learn and have fun. While the kids group will not be meeting regularly on Sunday nights, we will still have occasional events for them happening on Sundays, so make sure to mark them down on your calendar! We will also no longer have Youth Group on Wednesday nights.

Make sure you pick up one of the calendars for our Fall events! Everything we are doing this season is all fun and all free! What better time to invite your neighbors and friends to some of the great things we have going on at WWCC. Check out the website, our Facebook page, or the bulletins for more information as these events get closer. Thank you for your prayerful support and consideration of our Youth Ministry here.

*In Christ,
Conner*
