

Dear CCPC Friends,

In this season of lent 2021, we have a special opportunity to draw near to Jesus. Many of you know that I recently made a major life change by moving to Maryland. I am slowly unpacking and setting up house and getting to know my new surroundings. Of course, with any move and with any major life change there is loss. In my moments of grief, I think about Jesus in the days before his death. We are so blessed to serve a messiah who was fully human and who shared in the same sufferings that we face in our lives. I encourage you, in your times of loss, to remember the ways in which Jesus faced his trials — calling out to God, sometimes in anger and in pain, but always with faith, always filled with the spirit.

The elders of CCPC recently participated in a Session Retreat in which they shared "Holy Moments" with one another, times in their lives where they felt the presence of God. The stories were rich and varied, some dealing with tragedy and loss, others dealing with joy and fulfillment, but all of them had two things in common — there was mystery and spirit. As we move through lent, know that mystery and spirit are a part of any faith-filled life. Look for the "Holy Moments" in your own life.

In my new home in Chesapeake Beach, my neighborhood is surrounded by the Fishing Creek Wetlands Preserve. Although I have not seen them yet, I understand that the preserve is filled with river otters, herons, gulls, turtles, and so many more of God's creatures. I will be looking for mystery and spirit as I make my home here, as winter gives way to spring, as lent moves toward resurrection, and I will be anticipating mystery and spirit as we draw closer to the cross, closer to the joy of Easter morning.

Peace,
Pastor Susan

Happy Anniversary, Judy & Allen!

Happy 95th Birthday!

Doris Kobe's 95th birthday is coming up on Sunday, March 21, 2021. Unfortunately the COVID restrictions mean no in-person party this time around. However, it would be lovely if you could send her a card to help her celebrate. We anticipate that she will be back in Bowie by early March. She is living with David and Gina and their address in Bowie is 13111 Yorktown Dr., Bowie, MD 20715, so please send your cards there. We also will be hosting a virtual get together after church on March 21 from 3pm to 4pm for people to say hello; the church will provide the Zoom information once we get closer to the date.

Thanks,
Kathy Kobe and siblings

Thank You!

Dear CCPC Friends:

I appreciate very much the cards, eMails, calls, and prayers that you sent my way during my recent health problems. I have felt "hugged" by the church!

Marjorie Tanner

I want to thank all of my CCPC friends who sent me cards or called me because of my broken hip. Dick and I have now moved to Collington where we are doing well. I appreciate everyone's card, calls, and prayers.

Session Update

February 2021

Pastor Susan declared the Annual Congregational Meeting informative and robust.

Evonne Tang, Finance Chair, reported that January offerings were behind, but that the church is also presently underspending. Offering income typically catches up in February and March. Session approved Finance Committee's nomination of Steve Webb as the next Treasurer, replacing retiring treasurer Bob West. Watch for a capital drive for live streaming equipment for our worship services.

Ann Fleming, Personnel Chair, reported that staff reviews should be moved to September due to budget planning. Rick Osborne's weekly hours are being increased to 40 but his pay will remain the same. Robin Seekford will be rewarded with a pay increase for completing ten years as CCPC Administrative Assistant.

Ann Fleming, Race and Diversity Chair, announced that the movie watch party for Just Mercy is rescheduled to March 13 via Zoom. A Matthew 25 book discussion is on Sundays at 4:00 but will not meet on concert dates. A Microaggressions in Ministry summer series will be led by Ann and Dennis Evans. The White Too Long fall series will be led by Mary Brock and Steve Donoian. Kris Ross will lead a winter series, Outside the Lines. Check the CCPC Facebook page for details.

Adult Education classes for Sunday mornings are set with teachers including Pastor Susan, Rick Osborne, Sam Guillermo, and Dick Neff among others.

Skip Oates, Building and Grounds Chair, reported that the committee is dealing with concerns from neighboring property owners about falling tree limbs from the church's woods causing damage to their property. The committee will survey the property line in the spring and take care of any problems. Two patio heaters have been added for use in outdoor Vespers (come early to sit close).

Judyann Glazener, Outreach Committee Chair, presented the James Brassard Resolution Document for approval and hanging in the church. The motion carried and it will be framed and hung very soon.
