

Delivered from Fear

Andrew's mind was a blur. He was in his SUV on Interstate 10 and was traveling more than 10 miles over the speed limit. His wife, Whitney, had called 15 minutes ago. Their 13-year-old son, Latrell, had been hit in the head with a baseball during one of his games and been knocked unconscious.

Everything had been going so well. Latrell's team was headed to the state championships. Andrew's department was finally fully staffed. Whitney's herbal supplement business had really taken off. Now it seemed like Andrew had been engulfed in a deep, dark hole.

What will happen? Andrew wondered. Latrell wouldn't die, would he? Would he get to his son in time?

"Help us, Lord!" Andrew heard himself say. His involuntary cry directed his attention to the Lord. Andrew began to pray. The prayer was desperate and disjointed.

Then Andrew let his voice and mind rest. He had very nearly worked himself into a frenzy. It was a few minutes later when he heard the Holy Spirit speak reassurance to his mind, soul, and spirit. The Lord had proven to be faithful to Andrew and his family over and over again, just like now.

"Forgive me, Lord. I trust You," said Andrew as he pulled into a parking space outside of the hospital's emergency room.

The Disciples' Panic

Matthew 8:23-25, KJV

23 And when he was entered into a ship, his disciples followed him.

24 And, behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, inso-much that the ship was covered with the waves: but he was asleep.

25 And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save us: we perish.

Matthew 8:23-25, NIV

<sup>23</sup>Then he got into the boat and his disciples followed him. <sup>24</sup>Suddenly a furious storm came up on the lake, so that the waves swept over the boat. But Jesus was sleeping. <sup>25</sup>The disciples went and woke him, saying, "Lord, save us! We're going to drown!"

Three of the four Gospels recount this story, and they all indicate that it was at Jesus' initiative that He and His disciples crossed over to the other side, the east side, of the Sea of Galilee (Matt. 8:18; Mark 4:35; Luke 8:22). Mark 4:36 adds that other vessels set out with them.

During a severe drought in 1986, an ancient boat was discovered in the lake's mud. Radiocarbon dating indicated that the boat would have been in service about the time that Jesus lived. Constructed mostly of cedar and oak, the boat measured about 27 feet long, 7 feet wide, and 4 feet deep. The vessel had a centrally located mast and sails, along with oars that could be used in the absence of any wind to propel and maneuver the boat. It could support about one ton of weight—either 15 passengers or five crew members and their catch of fish. Vessels such as these were also used to transit people between cities on the Sea of Galilee, as well as to conduct trade.

Luke 8:23 indicates that as Jesus and the Twelve sailed across the lake, He fell asleep, perhaps due to exhaustion from ministering all day to crowds of people. Then, His disciples were caught off guard when a great storm came up and threatened to swamp the boat.

As the boat began to fill with water, the situation became dire. The Greek noun appearing in Matthew 8:24 to refer to the “tempest” (KJV) is seismos. In some contexts, the term could be used to refer to an earthquake. Here the emphasis was on the turbulent agitation of the sea (which was caused by the windstorm), somewhat like the rolling that one might encounter during an earthquake.

Mark 4:38 reveals that amid all the commotion, Jesus was in the stern of the boat and sound asleep on a cushion. Amazingly, not even the forceful jostling of the vessel could awaken Jesus from His slumber. After waking Jesus up, Matthew 8:25 records the Twelve’s plea for help: “Lord, save us! We’re going to drown!” Regretfully, as Mark 4:38 reveals, they questioned whether Jesus genuinely cared about their welfare and safety: “Teacher, don’t you care if we drown?”

The Savior’s Power

Matthew 8:26-27, KJV

26 And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm.

27 But the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him!

Matthew 8:26-27, NIV

<sup>26</sup>He replied, “You of little faith, why are you so afraid?” Then he got up and rebuked the winds and the waves, and it was completely calm.

<sup>27</sup>The men were amazed and asked, “What kind of man is this? Even the winds and the waves obey him!”

The Twelve succeeded in awakening Jesus from His sleep. Next, He countered their claim that He did not care about their wellbeing with two claims of His own. On the one hand, Jesus questioned why they were so “fearful” (Matt. 8:26, KJV). On the other hand, Jesus drew attention to His disciples’ “little faith.” The fact that the disciples cried out, “Lord, save us!” (Matt. 8:25), shows that they believed Jesus was powerful enough to turn to when they couldn’t control their circumstances.

“Faith” is a key theological term in the Gospels and can be understood as having four recognizable elements. First is cognition or an awareness of the facts. Second is comprehension or an understanding of the facts. Third is conviction or an acceptance of the facts. Fourth is commitment or trust in what is reliable and dependable.

From Hebrews 11, we learn the following about God-given faith: it is certain of His promises and confident in His power (vs. 1); it perceives the divine design (vs. 3); it acts on God’s promises (vss. 8-28); it esteems the Savior above all (vs. 26); and it overcomes great odds (vss. 29-40).

Mark 4:40 suggests that none of the above were present in the current episode involving the Twelve. Indeed, the verse records Jesus bluntly asking them, “Do you still have no faith?” As this verse makes clear, genuine faith is evidenced by more than mere words. It leads to an unshakable confidence in the Savior, regardless of the nature of the circumstance one is facing.

Jesus, after making His point, got up and “rebuked” both the winds and the waves (Matt. 8:26). The Greek verb translated “rebuked” can also be rendered “commanded.” In fact, Mark 4:39 indicates that Jesus directed the waves both to be “quiet” and “still.” Immediately, the “storm subsided” (Luke 8:24) and the lake became “completely calm” (Matt. 8:26).

At this juncture in the relationship of the Twelve with Jesus, they had witnessed Him do amazing things, including the healing of many people. Yet, when they cried out to Him for help amid the raging windstorm, it seems that they did not anticipate how He would rescue them. Thus, they were not only “amazed” (vs. 27), but also “terrified” (Mark 4:41; see also Luke 8:25).

The disciples' feelings of being overwhelmed prompted them to ask, "What kind of man is this?" (Matt. 8:27). They had just seen Jesus exercise supreme authority over creation by commanding the elements into silence. That is why the Twelve exclaimed, "Even the winds and the waves obey him!"

Although Jesus' disciples did not fully grasp His true identity as the divine-human Messiah, they still followed Him. Upcoming episodes in Jesus' life and ministry would demonstrate to His disciples that Nathanael, one of the Twelve, was correct when, upon first meeting Jesus, he declared: "Rabbi, you are the Son of God; you are the king of Israel" (John 1:49). After all, only the Creator revealed in the Old Testament could exercise control over the earthly realm.

Consider, for example, Psalm 65:7, which states that the Lord silenced the "roaring of the seas, the roaring of their waves." Added to this is 89:9, which indicates that the Creator rules supreme over the "surging sea." Moreover, the psalmist, in 107:28-30, recounted an incident involving some mariners who, amid a raging ocean, "cried out to the LORD in their trouble." The Creator responded by calming the "storm to a whisper," as well as hushing the "waves of the sea."

Panic or Prince of Peace

Fear and uncertainty overcame Charmaine and her husband as they heard the words “Stage 3 breast cancer” from the doctor. Her feelings of fatigue the past months had led her to suspect something was wrong in her body.

Throughout the next steps of chemo, surgery, and radiation, Charmaine tried to focus on God’s Word, but the pain and negative thoughts kept her from seeking Jesus’ presence. Instead of experiencing peace from the Prince of Peace, she had panic attacks before each chemo treatment.

On day 284, when she rang the bell at the hospital declaring that she was cancer free, she realized she had let panic rob her of Jesus’ peace during the past 284 days. Charmaine had chosen fear over the Prince of Peace.

Then, fear and confusion overwhelmed Jeanne when the doctor said she had stage 4 lung cancer. Jeanne hadn’t smoked in over 40 years. Yet, her body had given her the signs that it was true. She prayed for Jesus to surround her with His peace.

Throughout her chemo, amid the nausea and pain, Jeanne’s soul rested in Jesus’ loving arms. She acknowledged and thanked God for giving her two wonderful years of remission. Jeanne traveled, enjoyed time with her grandchildren, and gave thanks for each day she woke up healthy. Two years later, the dreaded disease returned with a vengeance. Jeanne fell to her knees and asked God to give her strength to go through to the end. Her last two weeks alive, Jeanne could feel Jesus’ presence with her. One night she peacefully laid in her bed to sleep and went to meet her Prince of Peace.

Dwell in His Presence

The disciples panicked even though Jesus was in the boat with them. They even questioned if Jesus cared about their safety. As Christians, we often panic and wonder if Jesus cares for us when storms enter our lives. Just as Jesus was able to calm the storm with the disciples, He can calm all storms in our lives. As Psalm 91:1 says, “He who dwells in the shelter of the Most High will abide in the shadow of the Almighty.”
